

Aerospace & Defense Suppliers Leadership Summit 2010

Strategies for Leadership, Growth and Competitive Advantage in the Future

Join us at this important event to hear Boeing and industry experts discuss what's ahead for the future of A&D manufacturing in the U.S. and in California, and learn what real-life strategies and best practices can help manufacturers thrive in the new economy.

Who Should Attend: We want senior leaders and key members of their staff who are committed to building competitive advantage and growing their business to use this event as the launching pad for change.

October 6, 2010, Wednesday

7:30am – 1:00pm

Holiday Inn, 19800 S.Vermont, Torrance, 90502

Keynote: Jack Kyser, Chief Economic Advisor,
Southern California Association of Governments

Other speakers and panelists include Boeing, A&D industry experts, commerce and trade representatives

Registration Fee:

$99 – regular price

$85 – discount for multiple attendees

$79 – discount for members & partners

What This Includes:

- Seminar Registration
- Conference Workbook & Resource Guide
- Breakfast and Lunch

Conference Topics

- What's Ahead for A&D Suppliers in the US and California?
- Next Generation Manufacturing – Future Trends and Best Practices for Success
- Systemic Continuous Improvement as a Competitive Advantage
- Alternate Channels to DoD Contracting and Other Growth Opportunities
- Leadership Succession Planning
- Leveraging Federal and State Resources for Manufacturers

Register at www.cmtc.com/cmtc_events.html